PRICE, THREE CENTS

COLLINS TO HEAD AMERICAN LEGION

Planning Armistice Banquet
Celebration Open to Public.

PARIS MOVIES SHOWN

There have been few, if any, meetings of the Harold D. Speakman Post of more diversified interest than the one held in the post room Monday evening. Election of officers held the center of interest for about half of the brief business session. Robert C. Collins, who has been the choice for Commander of several nominating committees, finally permitted his name to remain on the ballot and was unanimously elected. (It is rumored that Mrs. Collins gave Bob his orders to accept for which the Post is thankful. This fact also insures a close co-operation between the Auxiliary and the Post, since Mrs. Collins is active in the former group.)

A very strong ticket of assisting officers were also elected and it is quite certain that such an array of good fellows and good workers will make the next year the most successful the Post has ever seen. They are: W. Russell Green (Narberth's lawyer), first vice commander; Arthur L. Cooke, second vice commander; Roland Hewitt, adjutant; John A. Mower, Jr., finance officer, and Rev. R. E. Keighton, chaplain. The executive committee is made up of E. B. Yates, Jesse Hause, Harry Simpson, J. E. Bailey and Loxley Peebles.

Of equal importance was the action taken on the annual Armistice day banquet to open the affair to the public. It was decided to continue this pleasant custom and to make it bigger and better than ever. Those who attended last year's occasion will appreciate what an ambition this is.

While Armistice day means so much to the Legion, it also is close to the hearts of all real Americans, and this interesting celebration will be open to all who care to be with the Legion on this occasion. Tickets will be priced at $2.50 which barely covers the cost of the food. The number of plates will be very limited and reservations with checks should be sent in immediately. Simply address: American Legion, Narberth, Pa.

After the business of the meeting was completed, the Post was entertained by accounts of their Paris trip by Bob Collins and John Nash, while retiring Commander Shubert showed about half the movies which he took on the trip. The remainder of the films will be shown at a later meeting.

SCHOOL BOARD MEETS

Victrola to Be Bought For New Kindergarten.

The regular meeting of the School Board was held last Friday evening, October 21, with a full attendance.

It was decided to have an evening session of the school in grades five, six, seven and eight on Friday, November 18, at 8 o'clock, to which parents, friends and visitors are invited to see the school in operation. The new Elementary School Building will also be open for inspection.

In view of the recent infantile paralysis scare, the school authorities fumigated the buildings and took all wise and necessary precautions, though they never received a report from the Board of Health to the effect that there were any cases of the disease in the borough.

The principal and the supervisor of music were authorized to procure a victrola for the kindergarten, which has just been started this fall and is now being carried on in the Community Building, and, finally, the board decided to have the Thanksgiving vacation on Thursday and Friday, November 24, and 25.

Children tonight and adults tomorrow will participate in the Main Line's annual Hallowe'en frolic, at the Y. M. C. A., in Ardmore. The Grand March is scheduled to begin at 8 P. M., with a colorful array of fanciful and original costumes in the line.

RESIDENTS WARNED

Borough Authorities Say Leaves
Cannot Be Burned.

Reports have begun to reach the borough authorities that residents are beginning to dispose of fallen leaves by burning them in their yards and in the gutters. There is a borough ordinance which prohibits the burning of leaves on the public streets or in the gutters, and they cannot be burned inside property lines without the securing of a permit from the chief of the Fire Department.

People who burn leaves in the gutters in front of their properties are very likely to crack and damage the curb, rendering themselves liable to receive an order from the borough to install a new curb at their own expense.

The highway authorities of the borough object strongly to the burning of leaves in the streets because the heat of the fire melts the top dressing on the streets and results in permanent injury. The policemen, therefore, will be instructed to see that the ordinance against burning leaves is strictly enforced, and people who do not heed it after this public warning, may find themselves in trouble.

McINTYRE HEADS MERCHANTS' GROUP

Co-operative Buying Will Enable Members to Fight
Chain Stores.

PRICES TO BE UNIFORM

Eleven Main Line merchants who have realized that their concerted efforts can produce more service to the community and greater profit for themselves, have organized a group of stores to be known as "The League of Honor Stores." Every merchant of the list is a local resident and interested in the town in which he carries on his business. There are no "chain stores" in this group.

These 11 merchants propose to enforce each member of their organization to live up to rigid standards of uniform quality, superior service, absolute cleanliness, and fair prices. The league will make collective purchases each week to offer special goods to Main Line families at special prices. By buying collectively, they will be able to directly compete with any stores in the territory.

Although other stores are expected to join this group which extends now from Overbrook to Devon, the officers and directors are already selected and are working to present the idea to the residents of the Main Line. William T. McIntyre is the president of the league; George Jackson, of Wayne, is the vice president; Warren M. Aldred, of Cynwyd, is secretary, and John Jackson, Ardmore, treasurer. The other members are: Joseph Balaitz, Ardmore; Benjamin Freeman, Narberth; Gane & Snyder, Wayne; Harry Katz, Ardmore and Wayne; George Dando, Narberth; Joseph Espenshade, Devon; and Frank Espenshade, Bryn Mawr. The directors are the officers and the first five members listed above.

Co-operative advertising, co-operative buying and uniform window displays will be the first and most conspicuous achievements of this group of progressive storekeepers. They will meet weekly at William T. McIntyre's Ardmore office to discuss problems common to all of them and to plan their constructive work.

GIRLS TO ESCORT

Juniors to Have Hallowe'en Party
Thursday Evening.

A hallowe'en party will be given by the girls of the Junior Community Club next Thursday evening, November 3, at the home of Mrs. Robert J. Nash, Narberth and Price avenues. All members are urged to come and bring as their guests girls who might like to join the club. Every one is to be masked and it is suggested that one girl borrow her brother's clothes and escort her companion. The small fee of 35 cents a couple will be taken at the door to help defray expenses.

A very successful meeting was held last Thursday at the home of Elizabeth Jones. The members were very pleased at the presence of Mrs. C. A. Farmer, president of the senior club, and Mrs. Wallis Boileau, senior chairman of juniors. A delightful piano recital was given by Miss Marie Miesen.

A dance is on the books for next month, so watch for announcements.

THE FAMILY ALBUM

FOUND—after being lost for years—THE FAMILY ALBUM. Come and see it opened. This delightful entertainment will be given by the Ladies' Aid Society of the Narberth Methodist Episcopal Church, Friday evening, November 4, at 8 o'clock at the church. Tickets of admission, adults, 25 cents; children, 15 cents. Keep this date in mind and come and have a good time.

The Ladies' Aid has announced a new date for their annual bazaar—December 10.

CAKE SALE

A cake sale will be given by the Welfare Committee of the Community Club of Narberth at Paperman's Produce Store on Haverford avenue Saturday morning, October 29, at 10 o'clock.

NARBERTH THEATER TO OPEN TUESDAY

New Playhouse Nearly Ready for Inaugural Next Week.

ARDMORE MEN BACKERS

The Narberth Theater will have its official opening next Tuesday evening at 8.15. Invitations have been issued to officials and civic leaders of Narberth and other parts of the Main Line to attend the ceremony. "Loves of Carmen," starring Dolores Del Rio, has been chosen as the feature film for the opening.

The new playhouse, the latest of the Main Line's group of attractive theaters, has a seating capacity of nearly 900. The lack of crowding in the placing of seats has given the interior an air of spaciousness and comfort. Shows will be given daily at 7 and 9 P. M., with Wednesday and Saturday matinees at 2.30 P. M.

The decorative scheme is of subdued gold, with attractive dark woodwork to set off the decorations. Rough plaster has been used for the wall covering, done in a quiet and harmonious tone of pastel colors. A Warlitzer organ was installed this week and has been subjected to careful tone testing, so that it will be in readiness for the opening night.

The new theater is located on Narberth avenue, north of Haverford avenue. It is removed sufficiently from the congested business street to permit of parking without traffic difficulties.

Salasin & Freed, Ardmore real estate men, have promoted the enterprise and supervised its construction.

SCOUTS SEE LINDY

Local Troops at Delaware—Montgomery Meeting.

Tours through Philadelphia, a view of Colonel Charles Augustus Lindbergh, and an entertainment at the Academy of Music featured a busy day of activities, when members of the Narberth and Wynnewood Scout troops attended the annual Montgomery-Delaware county reunion in Philadelphia Saturday.

The local boys were keyed up Saturday afternoon when the American boy who spanned the ocean appeared for a brief moment on the stage of the Academy of Music to say hello. Lindbergh, who had just completed a parade of his own along Chestnut and Walnut streets, saluted the assemblage of bi-county scouts, who had paraded down Broad street from the Friends' Select School, at Fifteenth street and Parkway.

In charge of the reunion were Edward A. Carlson, of Ardmore, scout executive for the two counties, and Scout Commissioner Isaac C. Sutton, of Overbrook. Isaac prizes and other scout medals were awarded at the afternoon assemblage.

Jay Thomas, of the Narberth troop, and Fred Bates, of the Wynnewood troop, each won distinguished Scout awards. Narberth hopes next year to have an Eagle Scout or two present.

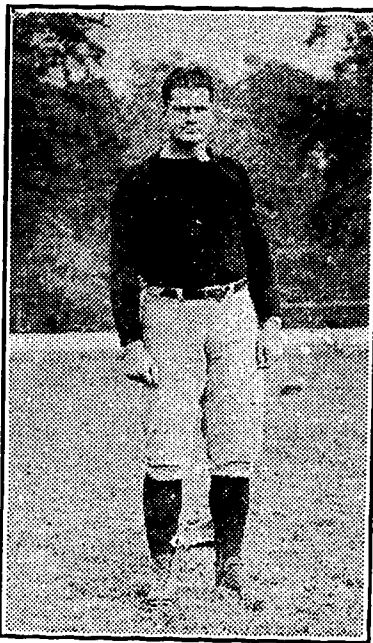

The Main Line Court of Honor will probably meet in Cynwyd November 10, at the Presbyterian Church, headquarters of Cynwyd Troop No. 2. During the past month this troop won the highest number of merit badges of any troop along the Main Line. It is thereby entitled to be host to the Court of Honor at that body's next session.

Friday night at the Scout house another signaling contest was held, being won by Flying Eagle Patrol, Vestus Spindler, patrol leader. Knot tying was won by Tenderfoot, George Trimble; second class, Richard Heckel; first class, Al Lambert.

More boys are joining and the work is getting under full swing. In the next week or so the cabin will be painted and spruced up a bit.

A meeting of the Lower Merion Republican committee will be held Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock in the township building at Ardmore. The

BOARD OF HEALTH POSITION STATED

Member Writes Letter About
Recent Local Paralysis Scare.

CRITICISM IS RESENTED

The recent paralysis scare in Narberth, which caused widespread comment, and resulted in considerable embarrassment for the school authorities and the Board of Health, has resulted in the receipt of an interesting letter from W. B. Carroll, a member of the health board.

Mr. Carroll has explained why the official report did not go through the hands of the local authorities, and makes an appeal for better understanding of, and co-operation in the work of the board. His letter follows:

"Constructive criticism is appreciated and given careful consideration by any intelligent recipient at whom it is directed. And conversely any ignorant clamor which is not based on a thorough knowledge of the facts in the case, does much harm to those endeavoring to carry on constructive work.

"The people of the borough have been much concerned, and justly so about Infantile Paralysis. At a stated meeting of the Board of Health some weeks ago the entire situation was thoroughly discussed, and every possible consideration given to any action that would prevent a spread of the disease should it make its appearance in Narberth. The health authorities of neighboring communities were consulted and arrangements made for a prompt exchange of any information that would aid in furthering such prevention. The action and opinions of the State health authorities in connection with the disease were carefully gone over. At the conclusion of the meeting the president of the board was given authority to

ALGONQUIN CHIEF TO SPEAK

Indian Music and Dance Numbers to Illustrate Talk.

At the meeting of the Women's Community Club on November 1, at 2.30 o'clock Chief Strong Wolf, of the Algonquin Tribe, will speak on Indian folk-lore and Indian music. He will bring his own musicians with him and they will offer Indian musical and dance numbers. Chief Strong Wolf was formerly a student at the University of Pennsylvania. The hostess of the afternoon will be Mrs. J. E. Burrell.

Mrs. Robert J. Nash, of Narberth avenue, opened her home Tuesday, October 25, for a luncheon-bridge given for the benefit of the Community Club Building Fund. There were 14 tables and many luncheon guests who did not play. The prizes were most attractive.

On Thursday, November 3, at 8 P. M. the Junior Department of the club will give a Hallowe'en party for new members and the next day, November 4, at 2 P. M. the legislative group will meet at the home of Mrs. Edwin C. Town, the chairman of Legislature, at 200 Narberth avenue.

NARBERTH MAY GET ITS NEW STATION

Merchants Hear of Plans to Move Freight Yards to Wynnewood

PLAN OTHER CHANGES

Hopes for immediate action in Narberth's campaign for better station facility were roused Wednesday night at the monthly meeting of the Narberth Board of Trade.

Burgess Henry A. Frye who, with ex-Senator Stites has been working with Pennsylvania Railroad officials, reported on the progress of affairs to date. He told of recent interviews with President W. W. Atterbury.

The railroad has practically given its stamp of approval, the merchants were told, to a series of changes which will culminate in a new station. The first step will be the removal of the freight station to Wynnewood—probably before the end of the year.

When this is done, the freight tracks will be removed from the south side, and a concourse substituted. It will thus be possible for motor cars to drive up to the east-bound platform, which has never been the case in the past. Elmwood avenue has been the nearest accessible point.

When this is completed, the plans call for the widening of the present dangerous Narberth avenue bridge. At the same time the Pennsy hopes to abolish the wooden building opposite the postoffice on Haverford avenue.

This building, now occupied by Robert J. Nash as a real estate office, has long been a serious traffic hazard. It projects out into the line of Haverford avenue, obstructing the view of east-bound cars on Haverford avenue. Many close shaves have resulted at train time when a number of pedestrians are crossing at that point.

The removal of the office will make it possible to widen Haverford avenue to its full width at that point. These improvements will serve to ease up the traffic situation to an appreciable degree.

No real promise is held out for the new station to be built on the south side. It will probably come in its turn after the other changes have been effected. A tunnel, under the tracks at Essex avenue, long sought, is not included in the plans. The cost would exceed $100,000 and no way of financing the project has yet been worked out.

In order to expedite the plans, the Board of Trade passed a resolution, approving the plan of the railroad to eliminate the Narberth freight station, removing the delivery point to Wynnewood.

Bookkeeping and credit were the topics discussed by the two speakers, H. K. Strickler and John L. Bischoff. Mr. Strickler gave a simple and interesting explanation of the elementary accounting problems to be solved by the retail merchant.

Mr. Bischoff, associated with a firm manufacturing printed forms, took up the subject from the standpoint of system. He recommended a central credit rating system to the merchants, who later discussed the matter. No decision was reached.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

To the Editor of "Our Town."

First, let it be said that the writer has no active interest in the Narberth Fire Company, simply being one of the so-called inactive members, which classification is automatic to every woman, man or child upon payment of $3 a year. I was, however, afforded the privilege of working with and for the firemen in connection with their recent carnival and was afforded many opportunities to view their indefatigable energies in order to put the carnival across, both socially and financially, and it is generally conceded that they did do that to the queen's taste.

The volunteer members that protect your property and mine are a mighty good sort as the writer is now in a position to know, and anything that can be done by the residents of Narberth and vicinity to further the interests of the firemen should be done. Dwelling for a minute on the maintenance of that wonderful organization, and I use the word "wonderful" advisedly, because I have lived in Narberth over four years and have yet to learn of a property completely destroyed by fire irrespective of its location or time of the fire and, strange to say, most of the fires happen at night. The above record is truly indicative of their being a highly efficient organization.

In order to keep the men 100 per cent. efficient it is therefore necessary to maintain modern equipment, not only motor, but dozens of other necessary accessories. All this costs money—lots of money—but if each and every property holder in Narberth would subscribe $3 per year everything would be all right; that is, these subscription members would, I believe, adequately maintain the organization and its equipment 100 per cent. All of the property owners do not subscribe, although they should, not only from a sense of duty, but in proof of public spirit. Personally I believe a more equitable way would be to make each property owner pay through the medium of taxation. Let's suppose they all subscribe, either through one medium or another, forced or otherwise; there is still another angle not thought of by the public generally and that is this—Who will take care of the volunteer fireman if he gets seriously injured during the exercise of his self-appointed duties in your and my behalf; in the event he is killed and leaves a widow and kiddies—what then?

Here is my suggestion, first let every one subscribe $3 for a whole year's fire protection and the cost is less than one cent per day. Let this subscription take care of the maintenance and additional equipment as required. Second, then do everything possible to develop a relief fund, as I were, to take care of any disabled firemen or their families. I understand there is a small fund at present for this purpose, but the fund is an extremely small one. This can be increased by such affluent residents who are public spirited and in addition the proceeds of such affairs the firemen may hold in the future be placed in the same coffer, or relief fund.

The above is worthy of serious thought and your consideration.
JAMES W. DARVILLE.

DATE IS SET

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Holy Trinity Lutheran Church of Narberth have decided to open their bazaar on Friday, December 2, at noon and run it Friday evening, Saturday and Saturday evening.

Orders will be taken on Friday for homemade cakes and pies, which will be sold on Saturday.

There will be an excellent selection for Christmas gifts and also a full line of groceries for the Christmas dinner.

Admiral McCully, who adopted seven young Russian orphans, now, after rather long striving, has acquired a mother for the orphans, evidently finding that it is not good for a man to be alone with seven.

Among the Business Men

He who travels the business thoroughfares of Narberth has much to observe. It is hard to distinguish, though, between advertising and news. So, in order to tell folks of progress and changes in our business section, and to comment on outstanding things, we will gather together a few comments now and then and run a business men's news column for all to read.

This week the big news seems to center on North Narberth avenue, where Salasin and Freed are rushing the finishing touches on the new Narberth Theater. It is a beautiful job. We are not much of a movie fan, but if the management is generous with press passes we can't imagine a theater anywhere which will be more restful and homelike. But more on this topic next week.

The Montgomery Garage, on Iona avenue, is under new management. H. Britten, formerly employed by Arthur Korthaus as mechanic, has taken over the building, one of the largest garages in the section. Mr. Britten is making extensive changes, in order to bring the garage up to date in every way.

The store windows have been a riot of color this week, with the orange and black of Halloween done in black cats and witches, with pumpkins, fruits, nuts, raisins and all the fixings. Two of the windows have attracted special attention. One of the unusual ones is that of the Narberth Coal Company. With Ralph Dunne's advertising background, plus the artistic sense of Miss Jeannette Gillis (see Fireside column), the Narberth coal window usually rates more than a passing glance.

This week they have collected a lot of letters from all over the map, praising their advertising or their coal, and the window display, which also shows samples of the advertising, is to show the residents how the N. C. C. is spreading the fame of our fair borough.

And people are crossing the street to admire the artistic success of the Lyons' Hardware window. Manager Keith has crowded the spirit of autumn woods into a few square feet. Fall leaves, squirrels, pheasants, etc., all arranged in remarkable nearness to rifles and cartridges, camp goods and hunters' supplies. It made our trigger finger itch.

Messrs. Galloway and Tietz of the Narberth Bakery are working far into the night preparing irresistible pumpkin and mince pies, and old fashioned ginger bread for Narberth's Halloween, and the fame of the candies made by our pioneer bakers, White's Sweet Shop, is being spread even farther by the new proprietor, Mr. Schultze. Pie upon him who leaves the borders of the borough for baked goods, ice cream or candy, with the array of quality stores ready to supply fresh and tasty goods!

We like the new layout of Crane's Drug Store. We noticed it while eating a lecherwurst sandwich at the soda counter Thursday, but Mr. Crane was paying so much attention to the recent addition to his family that we had to conduct our own tour.

The November Victor records are ready at Azpell's in Ardmore. We see by his advertising copy for this week. Let you think we are singing the praises of a foreigner in telling of the splendid musical center Barclay Azpell has built up in the Ardmore Theater Building. Let us hasten to say that he is a Narberth resident, and that many Narberth Victorolas are supplied from his stock.

That's about enough of current events in commercial affairs. A little bird whispered in our ear this week that two of the Narberth Theater stores have been rented. One to a barber shop and the other to a shoe company. Ye who have corns, prepare to shed them now!

THE AD MAN

CAMPAIGN PROGRESSES

Workers Feel Sure Narberth Will Fill Welfare Quota.

The Main Line has rallied nobly to the seventh annual appeal of the Welfare Federation and early returns indicate that the goal of $3,289,673, fixed for this campaign, will be attained. The Narberth committee is much pleased with the result to date.

The amount which must be raised for the maintenance of the 128 member agencies during 1928 is larger than the total subscriptions in any previous federation campaign. Campaign chairmen and team captains, together with the leaders of the various special committees, already are expressing gratification at the way in which subscriptions are being received daily.

The estimated total expenses of the entire group of federation agencies for next year reach the enormous total of $11,366,844. From this figure is deducted $8,077,171.30, representing the estimated earnings from operation, income from investments and other sources, leaving a total of exactly $3,289,673.60 required for the continuation of the various welfare agency activities until the end of next year.

Orders were issued this week by the Pennsylvania Railroad prohibiting parking on Station road in Ardmore facing the railroad station, according to a statement made yesterday by Mr. R. P. Russell, superintendent of the Philadelphia terminal division.

Kiwanians and Rotarians Hold
Successful Joint Meeting This Week

The Ardmore Rotary Club, organized for a short period of over two years, and the Main Line Kiwanis Club, in existence for almost one year, have been, since their organization, wending their separate ways, with each performing its various activities and obligations entirely distinct and apart from the other.

The Boards of Directors of the two clubs, convinced that each could help the other and that the co-operation of both clubs would redound to their mutual benefit and the advantage of the Main Line community, suggested a joint meeting of the two clubs, which was held at the Casa Del Rey on Tuesday, October 25.

The meeting was called for the purpose of developing a friendly spirit among the members of the two clubs and of instilling into their various members the thought that co-operation on the part of both would be of material assistance to each and would enable each to better perform the functions of the club in the community.

The meeting was in the joint charge of C. Howard Meredith, president of the Kiwanis Club, and John Weigel, president of the Rotary Club, and was attended by a very great percentage of the members of both clubs.

The keynote of the meeting was friendship and co-operation and this was particularly stressed by Presidents Meredith and Weigel, who each addressed the meeting, calling attention of those present to the purposes of the meeting and urging a continued spirit of friendship and co-operation.

A particularly pleasing feature of the meeting was the alternate singing of the Rotary songs and Kiwanis songs, all songs being joined in by members of both clubs, with William Bria, of Villanova College, and Dr. Saville A. Crowther, at the piano.

Horace Entrikey, celebrated Main Line tenor, interspersed several well-rendered solos and responded graciously to many encores.

Robert J. Nash, president of the Philadelphia Real Estate Board and past president of the Philadelphia Kiwanis Club, who was one of the guests at the meeting, spoke for a few minutes on his experiences with service clubs and outlined their advantages, particularly in the Main Line territory. Mr. Nash, in dwelling upon the advantages of the Main Line, very truly said that most of us lose the real quality of the Main Line picture by being too close to it, and emphasized the fact that the Main Line is better known and better appreciated by strangers than by those who are as close to it as we are.

Jacob C. Fisher, lieutenant governor of the southeastern division of the Pennsylvania Kiwanis district, who was present as the guest of the Kiwanis Club, extended to the meeting and to the members of both clubs the greetings of the Pennsylvania Kiwanis district and of Kiwanis International, and stated that in his opinion friendliness and co-operation were very desirable in the Main Line territory and could be of tremendous advantage in fostering the activities of the various service clubs therein. Mr. Fisher introduced Hon. Ellwood J. Turner, of Chester, who had been invited as the speaker of the evening to address the meeting.

Mr. Turner, an attorney of the Delaware county bar and a member of the State Legislature from his district, is a former past district governor of the Pennsylvania Kiwanis district, a former trustee of Kiwanis International and at present chairman of the district Committee on Public Affairs. His experiences in the administration of service clubs is thorough and extensive. He spoke eloquently and convincingly of the opportunities which are open to the Kiwanis clubs throughout the world in assisting various activities which are of national and international import. He paid particular attention to the absolute necessity of all service clubs co-operating throughout the land in fostering the principles of clean government.

Mr. Turner emphasized the fact that both the Ardmore Rotary Club and the Main Line Kiwanis Club are a crosscut of the business and professional life of the Main Line community and contain among their membership representatives of the various professions and businesses therein. Being so composed, the two service clubs are in a position to know the needs of the community and by the various contacts established in the daily pursuit of their business are also in a position to extend both individually and collectively a helping hand in solving the problems of our community.

It is hoped and expected that this meeting will be the forerunner of many such future gatherings which will embrace all of the civic organizations along the Main Line.

Wynnewood Meeting

A Wynnewood neighborhood meeting of the Federation workers took place at Mrs. Walter Clothier's residence, Wednesday, October 19, 1927, at 4 o'clock. Despite the inclement weather, an excellent showing of 28 workers was recorded. The best means of efficiently and quickly reaching the quota were discussed. Twenty-five thousand dollars is the sum desired. After the business meeting the guests enjoyed refreshments offered by Mrs. Clothier in her attractive home.

Bring Desanta Back From Canada.

The mounted police of the north-west may or may not be their model, but the Lower Merion police also "get their man" even though several years may intervene. They proved that this week when Lieutenant Mullin brought back from Montreal, Canada, Nicholas Desanta, who fled this country two years ago while awaiting trial on charges brought by the Lower Merion police.

Desanta was arrested in October, 1925, after a brutal assault committed in a garage on Rose lane in Haverford. Held without bail at the Magistrate's hearing he was later admitted to bond at Norris-town after being indicted by the Grand Jury. The day before his trial he fled to Canada.

Lower Merion police sent out "flyers" to officials in other cities and last week received word that the fugitive had been apprehended in Montreal. This week Lieutenant Mullin, accompanied by County Detective John Stevenson, went up and brought him back.

Much red tape was involved in the extradition. The warrants and the evidence in the case along with certifications from Harrisburg and from the Prothonotary at Norris-town were required as well as the approval of Federal officials in Washington. The trip to Washington was made by Police Superintendent Smith. After the State Department seal had been put on the papers

Booklovers' Hour

The first meeting of the Booklovers' Hour of the Ardmore Woman's Club was held in library building last Tuesday morning with a good attendance. Mrs. William Chambers conducted the meeting and a delightful hour was spent in looking over names of new books and authors and in reading "Walt," Christopher Morley's entertaining play, which was read at the anniversary meeting for Walt Whitman in Camden last year.

At the next meeting, to be held at 10.30 A. M., on November 8, the ladies plan to take up an intensive study of the life and works of Walt Whitman.

L. M. HAS CHANCE TO REGAIN CROWN

With a cleancut 21-to-0 victory over the strong Lansdowne High football team last Saturday, the Maroon and White eleven of Lower Merion marked up its fifth straight victory of the current season. The margin of victory came as a pleasant surprise to the local followers of the team, who expected a much lower score.

Pre-season dope placed Lansdowne and Radnor as the two big obstacles that Lower Merion would have to hurdle if it was to regain the championship which Radnor won last year.

Lower Merion has four more games to play, including Radnor. Today the team journeys to Abington, where it will endeavor to add that eleven to the list of victims. Abington has been an in and out team all season, beating the strong LaSalle team, but losing to Darby High. Should it have a good day this afternoon, Lower Merion will have its hands full to win.

Getting back to the Lansdowne game, the pleasing aspect of the tilt was the much improved playing of the team as a whole. In former games, it was the individual work of Smith, Mearns and some of the other backs that won, but Saturday the play was entirely different.

Was Punting Duel.

The first period was a punting duel between Lloyd and Worrel, each team feeling out the strength of the other. Towards the end of the second quarter, Lower Merion received a break when Lansdowne's safety man fumbled one of Lloyd's boots and Coleman recovered for Lower Merion on Lansdowne's 30-yard line.

At this point Coach Adam sent in Pinchhitter Bill Mearns to take Lloyd's place. With Mearns and Smith carrying the ball, Lower Merion soon moved the ball to Lansdowne's 2-yard line. Here a piece of good headwork made the first score for Lower Merion.

With the whole Lansdowne team massed to block a line buck, Captain Cook called for a short pass over the center of the line.

The play was deftly executed, with Kohlhas heaving a bullet-like pass over the goal line into the waiting arms of Purse. Cook made good on the extra point, making the score read, Lower Merion, 7; Lansdowne, 0.

Starting play for the final half, neither team was able to make much headway. Lansdowne had received and was soon forced to punt. Standing on his own 5-yard stripe, Worrel attempted to kick only to have Purse break through and block the try. Scott fell on the loose oval for Lower Merion's second touchdown, and again Cook made good on the try for point, making the tally read, Lower Merion, 14; Lansdowne, 0. Again Lansdowne received the ball, believing that the only way they could hope to win was by having possession of the ball. Unable to make headway against the charging Lower Merion line, Lansdowne was once more forced to punt.

It has been said that history repeats. At any rate, Scott broke through to block the kick, and he not only blocked the ball, but picked it up and ran the remaining distance for another touchdown. Cook then duplicated his previous placements and Lower Merion was ahead, 21-0.

Here is a good place to add a word or two about Scott. The chunky center came from a sickbed and played the game of his life. Repeatedly he broke through the Lansdowne line to throw his backs before they started. On punts he was covering the whole territory like a blanket.

Purse, too, played a fine game, scoring the first touchdown and playing the devil in general during the whole game. Cook's placekicks for the extra points were things of beauty and his kickoffs were the best he has done all season. D'Amora Richardson, in fact the whole line, showed marked improvement in their play.

Lower Merion deserved its triumph, outstriking Lansdowne 210 yards to 94 and making 8 first downs to Lansdowne's 4.

Girl Scout News

The recent "Know Your City" contest held in Philadelphia was a great success. Several Hundred Girl Scouts met at the Bulletin Building between 12 and 1 o'clock on October 15, and each getting a slip of paper, started on the course which ended in a Court of Awards at the Washington Monument in front of the Art Museum. If the 175 papers already graded by Mrs. Hershey Thomas, nature expert and originator of the trail, are criticisms of those yet to be graded, the Girl Scouts showed they know a lot about their city. Seventeen of the 175 have scored 47 or better out of a possible 50 for a perfect paper. The Academy of Fine Arts was visited en route, and it was interesting to note which pictures were the favorites. Landscapes and those depicting family life were in the lead. The winning troop will be announced shortly.

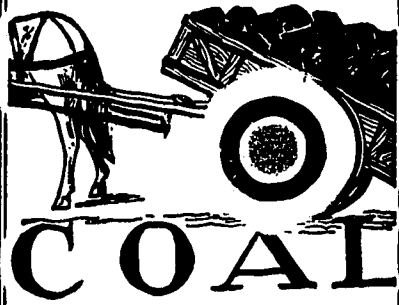

At the Court of Awards many girls from the Main Line received Merit Badges for knowledge gained at camp this summer. Among them were five girls from Cynwyd Troop, No. 94: Polly Phillips, two badges; Betty Phillips, one badge; Emma Creasdale, three badges; Esther Creasdale, one badge; and Constance McChesney, one badge; Christine Mahl, of the Ardmore Troop, received 11 merit badges.

Miss Jane Newhall, our new field director in District No. 8, has just announced that we are going to be a singing district very soon, if she has her way! With a booklet of 10 principal songs for us all to know, we will be in good form by spring for a splendid showing at our Spring Rally, when it is hoped all our mothers, fathers, aunts and uncles will turn out to enjoy it with us.

The leaders of the district and members of the Main Line Committee were guests of Mrs. George Grant Snowden, secretary of the Main Line Committee, Monday evening at her home, "Highland Hall." After a delightful supper, a round-table discussion was held on the work in District No. 8 and plans made for the winter's accomplishment. Thirty leaders and members of the committee were present. Mrs. Frederick Mauck, of Port Kennedy and Captain of the Haverford Community Center Troop, was unanimously elected president of the Leaders' Association, succeeding Mrs. John Nash, former Captain of the Narberth Troop, resigned. During five years of splendid work with the Narberth Scout Troop, which they organized, Mrs. J. C. Nash and her sister, Mrs. A. L. Cook, have witnessed its growth to a membership of 80 scouts and the reputation of being one of the most enthusiastic troops in the district. This year they are taking a vacation from the troop and are doing special work under the field captain, Miss Newhall.

Bankers' Hallowe'en Frolic

On Saturday evening last the Merion Title Employees' Association gathered in from the branch offices and with the main Ardmore office sported themselves to a good old-fashioned Hallowe'en party. Ghosts and girls, song and cider, dancing and doughnuts, all were mingled into an enthusiastic crowd of masquerading joyster to make the evening one not soon to be forgotten in the local bank. It was a unique sight with the bookkeeping floor transformed into a ball room lined with decorated floor lamps, cornstalks and pumpkin faces. Over seventy costumed folk were present, and each did his stunt for the judges, who awarded prizes for the best. Among some of the lucky ones were two posing as nurse maid and baby with coach and all impedimenta to match. Tramps, Spaniards, ghosts, hula-hula girls and many others added to the colorful celebration. The jazz artists were Tinton's Texans, an orchestra composed of several of the bank's own employees. Refreshments consisted of candied apples, cider, pretzels, candy and cakes. Over ten gallons of cider disappeared during the course of the evening. So figure it out for yourself. Each Merion Titleite looks happily forward to the next event, which is on the calendar for November 21. It is a show and dance at the Brookline Square Club.

Great credit is due the committee for the last party whose excellent plans and work made the evening a large success. Mr. Samuel Keen, as chairman, was in a large measure responsible for that.

PLAN FOR MEETING

Needlework Guild to Hear Annual Reports Next Month.

Loyal workers of the Narberth Branch of the Needlework Guild braved the weather on Wednesday last to meet with Mrs. Arthur Compton for sewing and business preparatory to the annual meeting which will be held Wednesday, November 16, at the Narberth Presbyterian Church. Garments will be brought in and listed at 10 A. M. by a committee headed by Mrs. John B. Brooks. Luncheon for officers and directors will be served at noon by a committee headed by Mrs. A. H. Wilson. The committee on receiving and distributing the garments is headed by Miss Laura Brown.

At 2 P. M. all garments will be exhibited and addresses and reports on the work will be made. It is hoped to have the national secretary, Miss Rosamonde Bender, with us, also a woman from one of the Courts in Philadelphia. The afternoon program is in charge of Mrs. John Caldwell. It is hoped that the women of Narberth will take this opportunity to learn what is being done by this organization, working throughout the year for the betterment of unfortunate and ailing humanity.

ROTARY IS HOST

To District Governor—Hears of International Progress.

The Bala-Cynwyd-Narberth Rotary Club was host, Tuesday, to the governor of the Fiftieth Rotary district, Dr. Samuel C. Schmucker, of West Chester. The visit of the governor is a yearly event in which all club activities are carefully scrutinized.

Before the regular meeting, Dr. Schmucker was in conference for two hours with club executives and committee chairmen to help in the formulation of a program for the coming year. After going into the work of the local club, he expressed his belief that it was the best organized, despite its youth, of all clubs in the district.

Every member was present at the regular luncheon when the governor spoke to the membership on the final purpose of Rotary. He told his hearers of the international convention at Ostend and of the progress made there in international good will.

"Rotary," Dr. Schmucker said, "is not just a collection of local lunch clubs organized for good fellowship. A world group of business men may in time do a great deal to solve the question of international peace. Parisian Rotarians are now engaged in organizing clubs throughout Germany."

LOWEST BAROMETER

Of Year Marked Last Wednesday's

Heavy Rainfall, Weatherman Says.

Temperature varying from 67 to 39 degrees and an unusually low barometer reading marked the past week's weather, according to Main Line Co-operative Observer Charles J. A. Decker. The barometer was high at 30.21 and low last Wednesday at 29.21, which was the lowest of the year, and nearly as low as October 25, 1926, when a pressure of 29.20 was recorded.

Precipitation last Wednesday was 1.44 inch, and for the week, 1.67 inch. The total since October 1 is 6.83 inches.

The Montgomery County Federation of Womens Clubs held a successful meeting in the new Bala-Cynwyd Club Building, October 20. A prize of $5.00 had been offered to the club making the best display of flowers, and the platform held a wonderful array of daintily arranged baskets of fall blooms.

The one arranged and presented by Mrs. William Chambers, of Ardmore, was pronounced the prize winner.

The basket was a very harmonious arrangement of several varieties of dahlias, all having the rich bronze shading and interwoven with the ampylopsis vine. Mr. and Mrs. Chambers are artists in producing wonderful dahlias.

ANNUAL MEETING

Library Association to Meet Tuesday, November 8.

The annual meeting of the Narberth Community Library Association scheduled for Monday, October 14, was postponed because of lack of a quorum until Tuesday, November 8. At the meeting on that date will be submitted three amendments to the by laws; one by which the time of the meeting of the Board of Trustees is left to their decision, a second making the annual meeting of the association to fall on the second Tuesday of October instead of on the second Monday, and a third requiring that absence of a member of the Board of Trustees from two successive meetings without satisfactory explanation shall be construed to be resignation from the board. All members of the association are welcome to the meeting.

OUTLINE WORK OF KING'S DAUGHTERS

Speakers Tell of Activities at County Convention in St. Andrew's.

RENAME OLD OFFICERS

Charities on which thousands of dollars have been expended during the past year were described Saturday at the twenty-sixth annual Montgomery county convention of King's Daughters held at St. Andrew's chapel in West Manayunk. The convention was attended by 125 delegates and guests.

The Holiday House for the Aged, at Narberth, was mentioned as one of the chief beneficiaries of the King's Daughters. In addition, the society is educating a Chinese girl as a missionary, preparing Thanksgiving and Christmas baskets for the poor, aiding lepers, visiting the sick, assisting the churches with which the societies are affiliated, and aiding day nurseries and hospitals.

King's Daughters' employment nowadays is a distinct improvement over that of past times, according to the Rev. Frank Hawthorne, who spoke in the absence of the Rev. Stanley R. West, of Calvary church, Conshohocken. "And it is to be hoped that women will continue their activities in the church and charitable institutions," he said, "in these days when so many women are doing man's work."

Mrs. Fred Derby, of Narberth, State president of the organization, gave an address on "Our Works—By their works ye shall know them." Systematic Bible study was urged by another speaker.

Tells of Holiday House.

Mrs. Francis H. Baker, of Narberth, told of the work done at Valley Forge during the past summer at the Holiday House. Here poor children and their mothers from congested parts of Philadelphia were entertained for two weeks. Competent settlement workers had charge of these families, and Mrs. Baker was house mother.

Mrs. W. L. Maize spoke on the House for the Aged at Narberth; told how happy the inmates are to be there, and how homelike it is, because it is so small. Both Mrs. Baker and Mrs. Maize urged the King's Daughters to visit these homes often, so as to get the inspiration to raise the necessary funds for their maintenance.

Election of officers resulted in the re-election of the old leaders. They were: Mrs. Irene Boyer, Pottstown, president; Mrs. Frances H. Baker, Narberth, vice president; Mrs. Harry Hughes, Glenside, secretary; Mrs. Harry Law, Bridgeport, treasurer.

Morning devotional exercises were conducted by the Rev. Benjamin N. Bird, of St. Asaph Church, Bala. Mrs. William Fischer, of Cynwyd, gave the address of welcome on behalf of the Anna C. Sullivan Memorial Circle, which entertained the visiting circles. Mrs. Middleton Davis, of Bryn Mawr, responded in behalf of the delegates. The usual reports were made by the officers. The Rev. Clark R. Trumbore, deacon of St. Andrew's chapel, opened the afternoon meeting of the convention with devotional exercises.

An invitation for the 1928 convention was given by the Help One Another Circle of Pottstown. The E. P. Miller Circle of Bryn Mawr won the banner for the largest representation, with 27 delegates present.

Christian Science Lecture

On Monday evening, November 7, at 8.15 o'clock, there will be a lecture on Christian Science in the auditorium of the Women's Club, Ardmore avenue, Ardmore, given under the auspices of First Church of Christ, Scientist, of Ardmore. The lecture, which is entitled "Science and Religion," will be delivered by Mr. William D. Kilpatrick, C. S. B., of Detroit, Michigan, who is a member of the Board of Lectureship of the First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass.

act independently in case the occasion warranted it.

"How carefully, conscientiously and thoroughly this work has been carried on is not appreciated, and apparently not thoroughly understood. As close a watch was kept on the health and condition of each child in school as circumstances would permit. The school nurse has called up the parents of children absent from school and endeavored to find out whether or not the child was sick, the nature of the ailment, and the symptoms. Anything pointing to Infantile Paralysis was promptly communicated to the president of the Board of Health, who gave unsparingly of his time and attention.

"The one case that was suspected was immediately transferred to the University Hospital, where positive diagnosis was made, and was reported by the hospital authorities to the State Department of Health. Since then there has been a storm of criticism directed at the health authorities and they have been accused of gross neglect of duty. As a matter of fact, the action taken meets with the entire approval of the representative of the State Board of Health for this district. The period of incubation of the disease is not known. To close the schools would be a simple matter. But to state when it would be safe to open them again would be extremely difficult. Fumigation as far as is known is entirely useless and is not recommended but was ordered done for the psychological effect.

"There may be other cases. We all hope that there will not be. But if any should occur every citizen of Narberth should know that the Board of Health has done everything recommended by those in the medical profession who have devoted their time and ability to health work. Furthermore, every parent with children in the Narberth schools should know that the board has given freely of their time ever since they were appointed, to protect the health of those children and to prevent the spread of disease. The unjust criticism that has been prevalent is a poor way to show appreciation of their efforts and only hampers the work they are trying to do. Constructive criticism will be appreciated and kindly received."

No Coal to Shovel; No Ashes to Haul;
No Dirt, No Soot, No Odors; No Oils nor Grease

The HEATOMAT can be used as a separate unit or in connection with your present Steam, Vapor or Hot Water System. Call, use the coupon or telephone Rittenhouse 8457-58 for descriptive literature.
